

Truth...

is not merely something to believe;
It is something to be submitted to.

We are hopelessly lost without it;
But we face a dangerous peril with it:

For if it doesn't break us and change us,
It will harden us.